PREFACE

The Protection and Safety Division of the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services has assumed the responsibilities of the former Office of Juvenile Services. The Division is therefore mandated by law to "...develop risk and need assessment instruments for use in determining ... placement at the time a juvenile enters the system; (and) develop a case classification process to include the establishment of classification program levels and case management standards for each program level."

The purpose of such a classification system is:

- 1) to serve as one of the primary criteria for developing a continuum of care and a system of graduated sanctions;
- 2) to assist the court in determining the appropriate dispositions for youth who are adjudicated delinquent; and,
- 3) to guide HHS-OJS supervision decisions for youth committed to HHS custody.

In order to accomplish these goals, the classification system is comprised of two separate processes: the initial classification decision, and reclassifications which move the offender through the various levels of supervision. The initial classification decision is governed by the severity of the adjudication offense and the risk of continued delinquent/criminal behavior posed by the youth. Reclassifications are determined by the extent to which the youth progresses on his/her case plan.

These criteria, however, are not the sole determinants of supervision decisions along a continuum of care. Nor are they the sole determinants of the appropriate degree of restrictiveness required of a placement in order to properly serve the youth. Rather, these criteria indicate the level of restrictiveness required from a juvenile justice perspective.

There is a separate and distinct criterion which determines the appropriate level of restrictiveness from a treatment perspective. The criterion of medical necessity determines whether in-patient treatment is required in order to address the youth's physical or mental health needs. The HHS-OJS classification process does not formally incorporate medical necessity in its classification decisions. However, medical necessity may justify a more restrictive setting than would otherwise be indicated from a justice perspective.

One purpose of the HHS-OJS classification system is to broadly determine whether the offender's act is sufficiently severe, or the risk of continued criminal behavior sufficiently high, as to justify a placement in an institutional setting. This broad question is analogous to the determination of medical necessity, and the answers to both questions will ultimately determine the nature of the residential setting's environment. This principle is illustrated by Figure 1.

		Is in-patient treatment medically necessary?
		No	Yes
Is institutional placement necessary for offender accountability or risk?	No	Community Placement	In-patient Treatment (Medical Facility)
	Yes	Institutional Placement (Non-Medical Facility)	In-patient Treatment (Medical Facility)

If the offender requires in-patient medical treatment, the appropriate setting for the offender is a medical facility, regardless whether justice issues suggest an institutional placement. If medical necessity does not exist, but offense severity or risk is sufficiently high, the offender would be placed in a non-medical (e.g., correctional, or other type treatment) facility.

The procedures for accessing mental health treatment services are contained in the Nebraska Mental Health Connection Guidebook. The detailed procedures governing the justice aspect of the HHS-OJS classification system are contained herein.

OVERVIEW

The Department uses risk and needs assessment instruments to determine the level of supervision by the worker and others for juvenile offenders. The classification instrument scores two separate criteria: 1) the severity of the adjudicated offense and 2) the risk of future criminal behavior. The initial classification determines the appropriate degree of restrictiveness required by the juvenile offender during the initial period of supervision. The classification is done at least every three months and in response to the youth's behavior.

The Classification indicates whether the juvenile offender requires placement in a secure confinement facility or the Youth Rehabilitation And Treatment Center or whether the risk of the juvenile to reoffend can be managed in the community. The secure confinement facility isn't accessible for juvenile offenders in the custody of HHS-OJS. The Classification Guidebook provides information on how to determine the juvenile offenders supervision level.

Services will be provided to the youth and family based on the need factors which are most closely related to the possibility of the youth reoffending. The youth's need for restrictiveness will be considered in providing services.

CLASSIFICATION PROCESS

The youth's level of supervision increases and decreases based on the youth's behaviors. The goal is to prepare the youth for discharge. When the youth is making responsible decisions and is preparing to be a law abiding citizen, and the youth's family and other support systems are in place to help him/her succeed, the worker will recommend discharge. Youth who reoffend or fail to abide by the Conditions of Liberty Agreement will be reclassified and may have more supervision or restrictions placed on them. In some cases, a hearing will be held to determine if the youth's behaviors can't be managed in the community and s/he need to return to a Youth Rehabilitation and Treatment Center. (See 390 NAC 8-000 for the Administrative Hearing Process.)
Classifications are done as follows:

For Juvenile Offenders at a YRTC for evaluation: the risk assessment and classification are done by YRTC staff. A level of treatment is suggested to the court.

For Juvenile Offenders in the community referred for evaluation: the classification is done by the Juvenile Services Officer or designated person in Service Area before the evaluation goes to the Court. (See Case Assignment and Case Process Guidebook for process for making one recommendation to the court.)

For Juvenile Offenders at a YRTC having had an evaluation who are committed to HHSOJS:

- the classification is already done,
- the reclassification will be done with Juvenile Service Officer and YRTC staff

For Juvenile Offenders committed to HHS-OJS who are at a YRTC but have no previous evaluation:

- The YRTC staff and Juvenile Services Officer or designated person will gather information from other evaluations.
- The YRTC staff will do evaluation and classification if the youth is a flight risk. If the youth isn't a flight risk, the youth will be brought to community for evaluation. Juvenile Services Officer or designated person will do the classification.

INITIAL CLASSIFICATION

When a juvenile has been adjudicated delinquent, and either placed in the custody of HHS-OJS for an evaluation or committed to the custody of HHS-OJS for supervision, a Juvenile Services Officer (JSO) or YRTC Classification Committee will complete an initial classification on the offender. Since this process is conducted by two different types of personnel, the common term "Classifier" is used throughout this document to refer to either the JSO or the YRTC Classification Committee. A schematic flowchart of this process is contained in Appendix A, attached.

In the case of a youth referred for evaluation, this initial classification will provide the court with a recommendation and prospective supervision plan. In the case of youth who are committed, the initial classification will provide the supervision framework for the JSO or institutional staff during the initial supervision period.

The purpose of the initial classification is to determine the appropriate degree of restrictiveness required by the youth during the initial period of supervision by HHS-OJS. The initial classification will also suggest the level of supervision or custody and possible types of settings, or placement options, in which that degree of restrictiveness may be achieved. Establishing the appropriate degree of restrictiveness is accomplished by placing the juvenile at a particular level of supervision. These supervision levels are determined by the assessment of two separate criteria: the severity of the adjudication offense, and the risk of continued delinquent or criminal behavior posed by the juvenile.

Severity of Adjudication Offense

The State's criminal offenses are grouped into categories of severity; low, moderate, high, and very high. These categories are described in Table 1.

A more complete listing of offenses, and their associated level of severity, is contained in Appendix B. The Appendix contains a complete and thorough list of Nebraska's criminal offenses as of this date. Offenses are included in the Appendix even though it may be unlikely for juveniles to be adjudicated delinquent for them. There are approximately two or three dozen offenses which will comprise the vast majority of adjudication offenses encountered during the classification process. The entire Appendix is provided for informational purposes, and to provide HHS-OJS personnel with as complete a reference as possible for those infrequent occasions when a juvenile is adjudicated delinquent on an unusual charge.

Table 1: Severity of Offense Categories

Category	Types of Offenses
Low	Minor Property Offenses and Victimless Crimes
Moderate	Serious Property Offenses and Less Serious Offenses Against Persons
High	Serious Offenses Against Persons
Very High	Violent Offenses Against Persons

The Classifier will determine the severity level of the adjudication charge from the list in Appendix B. If a juvenile has been adjudicated delinquent on more than one charge, the Classifier will use the highest adjudication charge to determine the severity level.

Offender Risk

"Risk" is defined as the probability of re-arrest for a new law violation within the first 18 months of community supervision. The HHS-OJS Risk Assessment Instrument is comprised of ten items which have points associated with the response categories for each of the items. A copy of the Risk Assessment is contained in Appendix C.

Risk Assessment Categories

Item 1: Number of Prior Arrests

0 = The arrest which resulted in this delinquency adjudication is the youth's first arrest, or (s)he has only one prior arrest.

2 = The youth has two or more prior arrests.

Item 2: Age at First Juvenile Arrest

2 = The youth was 12 or younger at the time of the first juvenile arrest.

0 = The youth was between 13 and 15 years old at the time of the first juvenile arrest.

-1 = The youth was 16 years old or older at the time of the first juvenile arrest.

Item 3: Prior Petition for Burglary or Theft

0 = There have been no prior delinquency petitions filed for burglary or theft.

1 = There has been at least one prior delinquency petition filed for burglary or theft.

Item 4: Prior Petition for Auto Theft or Robbery

0 = There have been no prior delinquency petitions filed for auto theft or robbery.

3 = There has been at least one prior delinquency petition filed for auto theft or robbery.

Item 5: Prior Out of Home Placements

0 = The youth has had no prior out of home placements in, for example, a group home, a residential treatment facility, or a YRTC.

4 = The youth has had at least one prior out of home placement.

Item 6: Peer Relationships

-1 = The juvenile's peers exhibit good support and influence. His/her friends are not known to be delinquent or to have influenced the youth's involvement in delinquent behavior. Friendships are basically with non-delinquent friends. Youth exhibits adequate social skills and uses leisure time constructively.

0 = The juvenile's peers exhibit a negative influence. Some of the youth's companions are involved with delinquent behavior. A past, or the current, offense was committed in cooperation with other peers. Youth's peer group is detrimental to goal achievement.

OR,

The juvenile is not peer oriented. The youth is not known to be involved with friends. (S)he acts alone in delinquent activity. The youth lacks social skills and has few positive interactions with peers. Leisure time is not used productively. No known organized activities.

4 = The juvenile has a strongly delinquent peer group. Most activities are with peer groups having a strong delinquent orientation, but the youth is not a gang member. Peers are delinquent and exploitative. Most activities are with groups having strong delinquent orientation.

OR,

The juvenile is involved, affiliated, or a member of a gang. Most activities are with gang members.

Item 7: School Truancy History (Last School Period)

-1 = There is no history of truancy or attendance problems during the last school period.

0 = There was occasional truancy (1-2 days/month) during the last school period.
Occasional attendance problems are handled at home or informally at school.

3 = There was frequent (more than 2 days/month) to habitual truancy (weekly incidence) during the last school period.

OR,

Attendance problems required intervention by the school, or youth has withdrawn or been expelled.

Item 8: Educational Achievement

0 = Youth is placed at expected grade level. Exhibits age-appropriate functioning.

3 = Youth has average or above intelligence, but is placed or is functioning below expected age/grade level.

OR,

Youth is diagnosed as having exceptional/special educational needs.

Item 9: Alcohol or Drug Problems

0 = There is no evidence of alcohol or drug use.

OR,

There has been experimentation with alcohol or drugs, but no indication of sustained use.

OR,

There is evidence of some alcohol or drug problems, as indicated by use that results in minor disruptive behavior or causes some discord in family or school.

3 = There is evidence of a serious alcohol or drug problem with serious disruption of functioning, such as loss of job, removal or dropping out of school, problems with the law, or physical harm to self or others.

Item 10: History of Neglect

0 = There is no history of neglect.

2 = Neglect has been documented, or reported by youth.

By adding the scores for the individual items on the risk assessment, a Total Score is derived. The Total Score can then be grouped into general categories which provide relative probabilities of an arrest for criminal behavior within the first 18 months of supervision by members of that group. The HHS-OJS classification policy groups risk scores into the four categories described in Table 2.

Table 2: Risk Categories

Risk Category	Range of Total Score	Percent of Cases	Failure Rate
Minimal	-3 through 0	34%	23%
Low	1 through 3	22%	39%
Medium	4 through 11	34% 0	51
High	12 or more	10%	66%

Initial Classification and Supervision Level

After the assessment of the offense severity and offender risk, the Classifier will then be able to complete an initial classification for the youth. Appendix D contains the HHSOJS Initial Classification Form. The specific adjudication charge is written in the space provided for item one on the form, and the severity level for that charge is to be written in the space provided for item 2. Similarly, the total risk score for the juvenile is written in the space provided for item 3 on the form and the risk level is written in the space provided for item 4.

The classification decision is then combined in the HHS-OJS Classification and Supervision Matrix. This matrix provides a suggested classification for the offender based on the considered criteria. The HHS-OJS Classification and Supervision Matrix is contained in Table 3.

Table 3: Classification and Supervision Matrix

Offense Severity	Risk Category
	Minimal	Low	Medium	High
Low	1	2	3	3
Moderate	1	2		4
High	2	2	4	5
Very High	3	4	4	5

The heavy line in the matrix is considered an "In/Out" line. In other words, those offenders who, by virtue of the severity of their adjudication offense or the risk posed by the juvenile or both, fall below or to the right of that line are considered appropriate for placement in a juvenile justice institution. The remaining juveniles are considered appropriate for community supervision.

The number contained in the box of the matrix indicates the suggested level of supervision for the offender. Services will be provided to the youth and family based on the factors which are most closely related to the possibility of the youth reoffending. The youth's need for restrictiveness will be considered in providing services.

Level 5    Secure Facility

Youth classified at Level 5 are considered appropriate for placement in a secure setting. A secure facility is locked and has a secure perimeter. Such facilities are self-contained with all the resources necessary for the youth (living arrangements, education, medical, recreation, etc.) available within the perimeter. Youth are supervised at all times by staff.

Note: The Secure Youth Confinement Facility in Omaha fits these criteria. The facility, however, is within the Department of Correctional Services, so is not available for youth adjudicated through the juvenile court. Level 5 youth are managed in the most restrictive level of custody available to HHS-OJS typically the YRTC's

Level 4      Staff-Secure Facility

Youth classified at Level 4 are considered appropriate for placement in a staff-secure setting such as the Youth Rehabilitation and Treatment Centers in Kearney and Geneva. A staff-secure facility does not have a secure perimeter and is not locked, but there are other deterrents to leaving such as the treatment modality and staff supervision. The setting is a self-contained campus with all the resources necessary for the youth available within its boundaries. Youth are continuously supervised by direct care staff, counselors, teachers or others. During furloughs, visits with family, or off-campus activities, youth are accompanied by staff or temporarily placed in the direct care of a parent or program representative.

Level 3      Intensive Community Supervision

Youth classified at Level 3 are considered appropriate for community supervision with a significant amount of structure and supervision. At this level, active intervention is provided to assist and direct youth toward responsible and productive behavior in the community. This is accomplished through frequent contact with staff and service providers, assistance to the youth and the community social units (such as family and school) with which the youth is involved, and services which provide structure and behavior management.

Level 2      General Community Supervision

Youth classified at Level 2 are considered appropriate for community supervision with a moderate degree of structure and periodic supervision. This level provides the youth an opportunity to demonstrate that (s)he can function in the community without the benefit of extensive controls. This is a period of testing the degree of the youth's responsibility and the strength of the support network. Services and supervision are designed to engage the family or care provider to become very involved in supporting the youth.

Level 1      Minimum Community Supervision

Youth classified at Level 1 are considered appropriate for community supervision with a minimum amount of external structure and supervision. By the time a youth reaches this level, (s)he has shown the ability to make responsible decisions and is preparing to be a law abiding, productive member of the community with few external controls. Services are designed to ensure that the youth's family and support systems are in place to help him or her succeed without outside intervention. Staff assist the youth in preparing for discharge from custody and begin disengaging their involvement with fewer contacts as the youth demonstrates appropriate conduct. Youth are generally expected to achieve Level 1 supervision level to be eligible for discharge.

In order to achieve the appropriate degree of restrictiveness, the supervision levels are associated with different settings, placement options, minimum monthly contact standards, desired time assignments, and supplemental services.

One of the service goals for juvenile offenders is to reduce their law violating behavior. The Department, youth and family will develop a case plan for the youth and family to meet this and other service goals.

The Department is responsible to evaluate and monitor the youth's behavior and progress on the case plan and assess community safety. To do this, direct contacts and collateral contacts will be made with the youth and others every month.

Direct contacts are face to face contacts, telephone calls or correspondence with the youth by the Juvenile Services Officer (JSO), other HHS designated staff or designated non-residential contract providers. For youth on Level III, it is recommend that at least one contact per month be with the JSO.

In addition to direct contacts, the JSO will have monthly contact with those involved with the youth or family or both to monitor and evaluate the youth's behavior and compliance with the Conditions of Liberty Agreement. The JSO will also assess community safety on an ongoing basis. These contacts are called collateral contacts.

Collateral contacts are contacts by the JSO with individuals other than the youth. This may include service providers, school personnel and the parents.

Table 4 contains details around the number of direct and collateral contacts per month. Once the Classifier has determined the suggested supervision level for the juvenile, (s)he indicates that level in the space provided on the Initial Classification Form.

Table 4: Placement and Services Matrix for Juvenile Services

	Level 5	Level 4	Level 3	Level 2	Level 1
Supervision or Custody Level	Secure Facility	Staff-secure Facility	Intensive Supervision	General Supervision	Minimum Supervision
Setting	N/A	Youth Rehabilitation and Treatment Centers	Community	Community	Community

Youth and Family Services	Institutional Services Family Support Family Preservation Individual and Family Therapy Home-based Services Independent Living Services Wrap-around	Institutional Services
		Medicaid treatment services also available based upon medical necessity Regardless of supervision level.

* Direct contact is any contact with the youth. This includes face-to-face contact, telephone calls and correspondence.

** At least one face-to-face contact should be made by the JSO; the remainder may be made by other designated HHS staff, or designated non-residential contract provider.

*** Collateral contact is any contact with individuals other than the youth. This includes parents, providers, schools, law enforcement, etc.

Overrides

The fact that these instruments and forms do not classify a youth cannot be over emphasized. The classification matrix and the assessments on which it is based are merely tools which assist the Classifier in the exercise of sound professional judgment. Using this judgment, it is the professional who classifies the youth and determines whether the suggested supervision level is appropriate for the particular youth under consideration. Any factor related to the youth may be weighted when considering an override of the suggested supervision level.

If the Classifier agrees with the suggested supervision level, (s)he indicates that the actual supervision level is the same as the suggested supervision level. The Classifier then signs and dates the Initial Classification Form.

If, however, the Classifier disagrees with the suggested supervision level, (s)he is able to override the suggested classification by one level in either direction. The actual supervision level is written in the space provided on the form, and the reasons for the departure are indicated. The Classifier and either the supervisor or Superintendent then sign and date the Initial Classification Form.

NEEDS ASSESSMENT

A Needs Assessment will be completed at the time of classification to indicate the relative degree of aggregate problems occurring in the youth's life, and the relative seriousness of each of those problems. This will assist the JSO, family and youth identifying the services needed for the youth and family. Services will be provided to the youth and family based on the need factors which are most closely related to the possibility of the youth re-offending. The youth's need for restrictiveness will be considered in providing services. Then a case plan will be developed using the needs assessment and the youth's need for supervision and restrictiveness. The assessment is to be prepared as objectively as possible.

The HHS/OJS Needs Assessment form is contained in Appendix E. It is a much more subjective instrument than the Risk Assessment and requires professional judgments to determine the extent of problems which occur in the youth's life regardless of whether those problems are related to the probability of future criminal behavior. Eighteen potential problem areas are assessed. A zero (0) is entered for each item when no problem is indicated for that item.

Item 1: Substance Abuse - Parent

- 2 = One or both care givers or other adult household members display some alcohol or drug abuse problems resulting in disruptive behavior or causing some discord in the family. May be involved in out-patient treatment (such as Alcoholics Anonymous, Narcotics Anonymous).
- 3 = One or both care givers or other adult household members display serious alcohol or drug abuse problems resulting in chronic dysfunction, such as job loss, problems with the law, or abusive or destructive behavior. May have been involved in past in-patient treatment.

Item 2: Conflict in Home

- 1 = There is a lack of cooperation between family members resulting in outside intervention.
- 3 = There is current marital or domestic discord resulting in physical or emotional abuse of spouse, partner, and/or children. There may be frequent and/or multiple live-in partners.

- 5 = There is domestic violence resulting in the involvement of law enforcement and/or domestic violence programs. This could include a repeated history of leaving and returning to an abusive spouse, restraining orders, criminal complaints, and/or substantiated child abuse.

Item 3: Living Situation

- 1 = There is current financial stress which results in family conflict and need for outside assistance. Family has housing, but it does not meet health/safety needs of the children (e.g., inadequate size, plumbing, heating, wiring, housekeeping, etc.). There are serious problems, including nomadic lifestyle, or failure to provide meals or medical care to meet the health or safety needs or both of the children.
- 2 = Family has eviction notice, house has been condemned or is uninhabitable, or family is homeless.

Item 4: Parenting Skills

1. = Some minor problems exist.
- 3 = Improvement of basic parenting skills is needed by one or more care givers to effectively control or nurture children; may be evidenced by inconsistency, passiveness, or parent/child role reversal.
- 5 = One or both care givers display destructive/abusive parenting patterns.

Item 5: Care Giver Disabilities

- 1 = Care giver(s) have emotional, physical, and/or cognitive disabilities that negatively affect family.
- 2 = Care giver(s) have an ongoing need for formal mental health treatment or have a serious chronic health problem or cognitive disability that seriously impairs ability to provide for their children.

Item 6: Intra-family Sex Abuse (Excluding youth)

- 2 = Intra-familial sexual abuse has been alleged, but never substantiated. Includes self-reports by youth and abuse suspected by professionals.
- 5 = Intra-familial sexual abuse has been substantiated by HHS or by court adjudication.

Item 7: Family Criminality

- 1 = Care giver(s) and/or siblings have a record of felony convictions/ adjudication's for criminal acts within the last ten years.
- 2 = One or both care givers and/or siblings are currently incarcerated.

Item 8: Peer Relationships

- 2 = The youth's peer group is detrimental to goal achievement, or youth lacks social skills; has few positive interactions with peers. Leisure time is not used productively.
- 4 = Peers are delinquent and exploitative; most activities are with groups having strong delinquent orientation including but not limited to gang involvement.

Item 9: School Behavior

- 1 = Occasional attendance problems; youth displays work effort or disciplinary problems that were handled at home or school.
- 3 = Severe truancy or school behavior problems which require outside intervention.
- 4 = Youth is not attending school or has been expelled.

Item 10: Intellectual/Educational Deficits

- 1 = Youth has below average intelligence or is functioning below expected age/grade level.
- 2 = Youth has been diagnosed as requiring special education services.

Item 11: Vocational Education/Employment

- 1 = Unemployed or underemployed; some vocational interests; needs training.
- 2 = Unemployed; lacks skills and vocational interests.

Item 12: Substance Abuse – Youth

- 1 = Experimentation with alcohol or drugs, but there is no indication of sustained use.
- 3 = Some alcohol or drug problems, indicated by use that results in prolonged disruptive behavior and/or causes some discord in family or school.
- 5 = Serious alcohol or drug abuse problems with serious disruption of functioning, such as loss of a job, removal/ dropping out of school, problems with the law, and/or physical harm to self or others.

Item 13: Emotional Stability

- 1. Periodic or sporadic responses which limit but do not prohibit adequate functioning.
- 2. Suicide/Self-Abusive behaviors.
- 4. Excessive responses which prohibit or severely limit adequate functioning.

Item 14: Victim of Child Abuse/Neglect (In family or out-of-family)

- 1 = There has been physical, sexual, or emotional abuse or neglect, but never substantiated.
- 2 = Substantiated/confirmed physical or emotional abuse or neglect.
- 3 = Substantiated/confirmed sexual abuse.

Item 15: Sexual Assaultive Behavior

- 3 = Inappropriate expressions of sexuality.
- 5 = Uses sexual expression/behaviors for power and control over others, harming and/or instilling fear in the victim.

Item 16: Propensity for Violence

- 2 = Youth has a history of assaultive behavior.
- 3 = Youth was found in possession of a weapon at the time of arrest.
- 5 = Youth displays or has a history of assaultive behavior which is power/control oriented.

Item 17: Adaptive Skills

- 1 = Limited communication skills.
- 2 = Documented self-management deficits.

Item 18: Health/Hygiene

1 = Youth has medical, dental, or health education needs.

2 = Youth has physical handicap or chronic illness which limits functioning.

After determining the extent of problems for each of these 18 items, the staff will be better able to develop a case plan. The ratings of some of the individual problem areas should correspond to specific supervision objectives which are set for the offender. These case plans will be modified in subsequent months based on the youth's behavior and compliance with the supervision objectives.

YOUTH BEHAVIOR MANAGEMENT OPTIONS, REWARDS AND SANCTIONS

A system of rewards and sanctions is available to workers to help guide youth toward responsible, pro-social behavior. Youth are held accountable for negative behavior through the application of sanctions and natural consequences. Positive behavior is reinforced with regards and enhancements.

- Link the consequence to the behavior
- Provide logical consequences that utilize natural supports in the family and community wherever possible;
- Be integrated into the larger system that includes family, peers, school, and community;
- Provide consequences that are proportionate to the misbehavior;
- Increase or decrease in restrictiveness or intensity based upon youth's subsequent behavior;
- Be timely
- Be time limited; and
- Set clear expectations of behavior.

Routine Reclassification

The HHS-OJS classification system is designed to be dynamic and fluid, rather than static. Juveniles will move upward and downward through the various supervision levels contingent upon their behavior while under supervision. In order to facilitate case movement, a routine reclassification will be conducted on each youth at least every three months and in response to the youth's behavior.

For juveniles who are classified at Level 5 supervision, it is anticipated that the first routine reclassification would be conducted 12 months after the initial classification and, if the youth is to remain in that YRTC, every three months thereafter. If the youth is classified at Level 4 supervision, it is anticipated that the first routine reclassification conducted six months after the initial classification and, if the youth is to remain in that facility, every three months thereafter. Offenders who are at liberty in the community are subject to a routine reclassification every three months and in response to the youth's behavior.

HHS-OJS reclassification policies are based on actual experience with an offender while (s)he is under supervision. The outcome of a routine reclassification will be based on the Classifier's judgment regarding the offender's performance in achieving the objectives established in the case plan. Positive performance judged to be satisfactory or exceptional will result in a reclassification downward to a less restrictive supervision level. Negative performance, short of behavior which violates the conditions of liberty, will result in the juvenile continuing at the same supervision level. Table 5 indicates the performance criteria to be used, the desired outcome, and the approval process for routine reclassifications.

Table 5: Routine Reclassification Criteria and Process

Case Plan Performance	Desired Outcome	Approval Process
Unsatisfactory	Maintain at current level	Administrator's approval
Satisfactory	Step-down 1 level	Classifier's Decision
Exceptional	Step-down 2 levels	Administrator's approval

Appendix F contains the Routine Reclassification Form. The classifier will list the areas of case plan objectives in the space provided, and rate the level of the juvenile's compliance with each of those objectives. The Classifier determines the overall compliance on the case plan and indicates that rating.

The juvenile's current supervision level is indicated, and a new supervision level for the next three month period of supervision is indicated. If the Classifier intends to have the juvenile step-down one supervision level (s)he signs and dates the form in the space provided. If the JSO intends for the juvenile to remain at the current level, or wants the juvenile to step-down two levels, the Classifier and either the supervisor or Superintendent sign and date the form.

Exceptional Reclassification

Although the classification and case management system is designed to gradually reduce the level of supervision for an offender, some youth will require increased supervision. The majority of upward reclassifications will be in response to the offender's misbehavior and, as such, will be unscheduled. Only when the offender's misbehavior coincides with a scheduled reclassification will the supervision level be increased as part of the routine reclassification. Table 6 gives the criteria and processes to be followed in response to violations of the Conditions of Liberty Agreement.

RESPONSE OPTIONS FOR VIOLATIONS OF THE CONDITIONS OF LIBERTY

		TYPE OF VIOLATION
		TECHNICAL VIOLATIONS	LAW VIOLATIONS
OFFENDER'S SUPERVISION LEVEL	LEVEL 1 OR LEVEL 2	Reclassify to Level 3; Remains in the community (Administrative Hearing)	Reclassify to Level 3; Remains in the community (Administrative Hearing)
			Reclassify to Level 4; Returned/placed in institution (Revocation/Court Hearing)
	LEVEL 3	Additional restrictions; Remains in the community	Additional restrictions; Remains in the community
		Reclassify to Level 4; Return/placed in institution (Revocation/Court Hearing)	Reclassify to Level 4; Returned/placed in institution (Revocation/Court Hearing)

In response to technical violations, increased restrictions will be placed on the juvenile. Only offenders for whom all options available in the community have been exhausted will be placed in an institution for a technical violation.

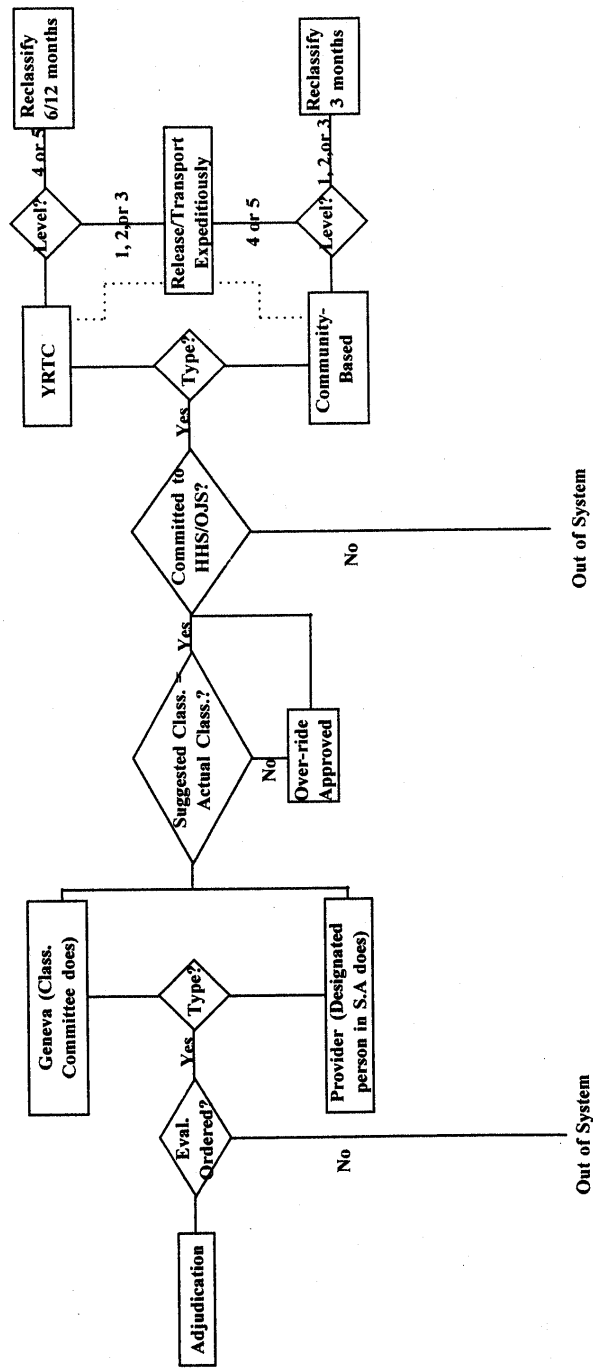

For Juvenile Offenders who have been committed to the community and who have a new law violation, the JSO and team members will consider the level of risk, severity of the offense and community safety. If the team believes the youth requires a more restrictive level for placement, the JSO will notify the court and involved parties 15 days in advance of the anticipated change. A court hearing must be held before the youth may be moved to a more restrictive placement.

For Juvenile Offenders released from the YRTC and who have a new law violation, the JSO and team members decide whether the appropriate response is to increase community restrictiveness, or to place the offender in an institution. the JSO must notify the court of the change.

The procedures governing the conduct of Administrative Hearings are contained in 390 NAC 8-006, 8-007, 8-008 and Court and Legal for Juvenile Offenders Guidebook.
